What is the most challenging part of the assignment?

For me, the most challenging part is figuring out how to implement the split time recording and storing up to 5 data of split times. And stage 7 also looks confusing and hard to understand.

Right now, I did stage 5 of the assignment, and now I'm trying to figure out how to do the next stages. Here's how my circuit look like now while writing this.